My dear Huxell,

Accept my best thanks for the compact body of new & important matter contained in the 'Supplement' to the Manual, of which you have kindly sent me a copy.

Very truly yours,

Richard Owen.

British Museum

November 14 1865,

Dear Sir

Will you oblige me by informing Prof. Stokes that, in the event of the Committee of Papers, on the Report of the Referees on my Paper on Thylacoles, ordering it for publication in the 'Transactions,' I can arrange to give the Illustrations in 3 4^{to} plates.

I have seen Mr. Williams, & the Plates of the 'Echinina' paper are progressing satisfactorily.

I am,

Dear Sir,

Yours truly,

Mr. White. 79

My dear Mr. Formick,

You may deduce from the state of this scrawl the approach my vitality has made to its' close. The Letter of the 26th for which I gratefully thank you, has acted as a cordial, and you would have had a more prompt acknowledgment, if I could have laid hands on the 'Broad Arrow' to which, it rejoiced me to read your reference. {and what a clear hand you still indite!} I shall keep a sharp out-look for it. My neighbour

Edwin Chadwick urged me to avail myself of his carriage and drove me to the L^d. Soc^y, but the Ceremony of the Presentation concluded the business of the Meeting; and 3 Papers were read and discussed, besides the Annual Summary by the President before I was called up to receive the medal. My friend could not tarry, and I found my way home by Cab and Train, before dark.

There, surely, are exceptional conditions under which "My Lords of the Admiralty" ought to supersede a "Director General" of a Naval Department!

However, your services, under hazards & trials, not likely to be repeated, will be remembered and estimated whilst the British History endures!

I beg your kind acceptance of the last Memoir which the Royal Society sent to Press, there is a later one in type; but whether I survive to correct, or you to peruse, is uncertain!

Meanwhile, accept my hearty good wishes,
and believe me,
while I breathe,

most truly yours,

Richard Owen.

My dear Sir,

Will you send a letter of thanks to the President & Council of the Zoological Society, for the Bodies of a Petal Seal and its Mother, rec?

May 22^d & 24th

Yours very truly
R. Owen.

Dear Miss Murray,

I am most glad that my ticket for Sunday next was free - & he so worthily bestowed, both as to person & object, as it now is.

I can now only add that I am ever truly yours

My dear Sir Joseph,

I mean to take the earliest opportunity afforded by my engagements here to come down for a final comparison of the Reston's Kopals with my catalogue, now ready for press.
I have written to Mr. Hawkins and ordered your cast to be made after the 'Duke's-theatre' Shakespeare.

and I have written ~~made~~, and to Mr. Phillips

I send you, for his Grace, the history of the original trust.

Believe me,

Faithfully yours,

Richard Owen.

Monseigneur!

Je viens de recevoir la lettre que Votre Excellence m'a fait l'honneur de m'adresser le 23 de ce mois, en me transmettant la Decoration de Chevalier de la Legion d'Honneur que Sa Majesté Imperiale, votre Auguste Souverain, a daigné m'accorder.

Je serai infiniment flatté si votre Excellence pourra soumettre à l'Empereur, et recevoir Vous Meme, l'expression de ma reconnaissance pour avoir honoré de sa consideration, et, dans ma personne, la Science que je cultive plus particulièrement, et qui a été toujours si protégée en en France, et particulièrement par l'Illustre Devancier de Sa Majesté sur le Trône Impérial.

Je vous prie, Monsieur le Grand Chancelier, d'agréer l'expression de la considération la plus distinguée, avec laquelle j'ai l'honneur d'être, de Votre Excellence,

Votre très Obéissant et

Obéissant Serviteur,

Richard Owen, R. P. S.

(Chevalier de l'Ordre 'pour le Mérite', et Correspondant de l'Institut Impérial de France).

British Museum,
20th October 1864.

Dear Mr. Noble

I have delayed writing until I could tell you that the newly acquired sculptures from the Ex-King of Naples' collection had been unpacked & were profitably visible.

Any Tuesday or Thursday that may be convenient for you to enquire for me here, will find me ready to receive you & your friends, & show you these beautiful additions.

I direct to Tipton thinking you may not yet have migrated to Brighton, & with kind remembrances to Mrs Noble & your children, believe me, ever truly yours,
R. Owen.

Private,

Sept 7 1864

My dear Mr. Jope,

On my arrival at home
I found the Note from Col. P. of which I inclose a copy.

This makes me pause before taking a step counter to

Col. P.'s advice, but consider it & give me your's & I will act upon it, Ever yours,

Rich^d Owen.

Dear Sir

I shall be glad to give, promptly, the attention to the ms. of Part 14, with a view to insertion of references, &c. so as to keep down unnecessary cost, as soon as the ms., with Werley's Proof, reach me.

I am
dear Sir,

Faithfully yours,

Rich. Owen,

Dear Mr. Grove

I feel ashamed to have deferred so long my thanks for the very great pleasure you gave me & a sister of mine, now our guest, by the tickets for for the glorious selection of Handel's compositions so gloriously rendered at the Ital Palace on Wednesday.

I wish you would come & receive my sister's acknowledgments here.

We should be most happy to see you with any friend you might choose to bring to dinner on Sunday next - coming as early as you like, our dinner hour being 5 - Mrs Owen begs to be kindly remembered to you, & I am, yours most truly

Dear Mr. Cooke,

Accept my best thanks for the liberal gift of 6 copies of your excellent 'Magazine'.
I esteem the 'Notice', which you have favored me by admitting, as among the most cherished acknowledgments of my labours.

When Spring is more advanced and the weather permits my indulging in a walk, I will tempt you to accompany me about my environment near Sheen Gate and get an appetite for a 5 o'clock dinner of Roast Beef which is a sort of institution on Sunday Afternoons for friends from London.

If you give me the requisite encouragement I will send you 'Sailing directions' or rather 'Rail-ing ones' - for reaching Sheen Lodge - Meanwhile,

Believe me

very truly yours,

Rich. Owen

Green Lodge, Monday (5:30 p.m.)

Dear Miss Wable,

I am glad to report my safe & punctual arrival after a pleasant journey; & to record my best acknowledgments to all the circle for so pleasant a visit. I found all well.

The Duke & Duchess of York did me the honour to call yesterday. My sister begs me to express her grateful acknowledgments to your dear Father for his handsome & acceptable present of fruit & game.

Sincerely yours,

Rich. Owen -

Shen Lodge, East Shen,

My dear Mine,

No holiday could be more agreeable to me than the one you kindly propose.
Our Trustees, luckily, met last Saturday, so I am free for the 19th. I have been looking through ^{the} S. Western R. W. time-book, but they have not 'Henley' among their Stations.
May I have just a line on a P. O. laid to to tell me what Train to take on 18th or 19th and you may depend upon my being at the Station nearest, or most convenient to your charming abode.

Sister unites in kindest regards to your circle, with,

Yours ever truly,

Rich^d. Owen .
